EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

India is searing. Large parts of the country are in the grips of unbearable heat and heatwaves. March this year was the hottest March on record, and March-April has witnessed a record number of heatwaves. To combat outside heat, we are installing more and more ACs, thereby unleashing a vicious cycle of spiralling heat island effect. We can break this cycle only by building cities that cool themselves. This means more open spaces, green areas and water bodies, and more energy-efficient green buildings. We are building hothouses and not habitable buildings. Most modern buildings are built with too much concrete, glass and poor shading and ventilation, making them prone to overheating. Even the affordable houses that the Government is building for the poor under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana are not habitable on certain days of the year because they are too hot to live in.

Many of these affordable houses will become uninhabitable as the number of days with high temperatures increases due to global warming. Therefore, our building bye-laws, urban planning guidelines and construction technologies must be radically changed to adapt to the rising heat. Heatwave is theoretical discomfort for some of us who move from an air-conditioned home to an air-conditioned car to an air-conditioned office. But it is a matter of life and death for a poor person dependent on manual labour and living in a hothouse in an urban slum or a village. India, therefore, needs a heat action plan that saves the majority from hot extremes.

She is the second-oldest French person ever and third-oldest European on record. The nun, who is partially deaf and uses a wheelchair, said she still tries to keep her mind active. Staff at Sister Andre's retirement home said she is still given a glass of wine each day.

No lights in Oval Grounds

Sir,

It is astonishing to observe that there are no lights in the Oval Grounds in Mysuru. There are a number of students aspiring to become sports personalities and they do have to pursue academics for having a professional back up. These students will have to go to colleges during day time and pursue their sporting activities in the evenings or in the early morning hours.

What is disgusting to note is that the Oval Grounds does not have proper lighting mechanism to light up the arena. Me being a sports person during college days, now having lost the touch and wanting to get back in shape professionally, went to Oval Grounds at 5 am to notice to my surprise that it is all dark. If there were some centralised lighting mechanism, students can pursue their activities after college hours, till late in the evening or start early at 4 am.

On behalf of other sportspersons, I request the Mysore University authorities to do the needful. The sprinklers are in place, but then nobody turns them on. If the ground attendant can turn on the sprinklers for half an hour in the afternoons, the ground will be lush green and attractive, thus motivating the sporting fraternity. I am surprised why none of the sporting fraternity raises concerns about these simple issues, which makes a lot of difference. The ground does need some cleaning and maintenance.

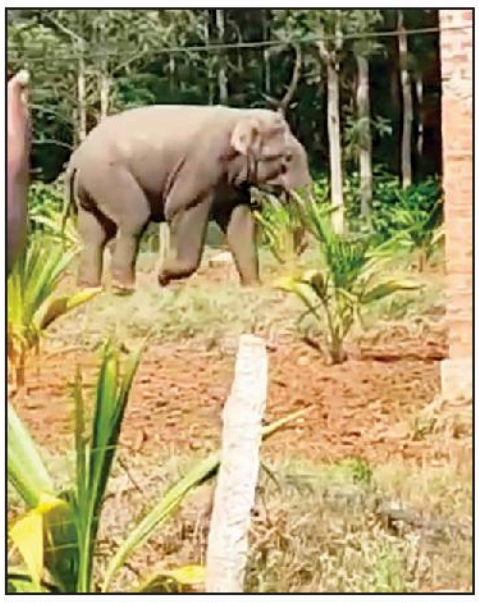
Woman suffers broken bones in wild elephant attack at Hanagod



Hanagod, Apr. 27 (Hanagod Mahesh, Raghu&KS)- A woman, who was tending her cattle, suffered broken bones, when one of the two wild elephants, which was running on hearing people screaming, knocked her down and stamped her leg in the process near Hadwalu Kere close to Haralahalli village on Tuesday afternoon.

The injured woman is 55-year-old Puttalakshmamma of Haralahalli village. She is being treated at K.R. Hospital in Mysuru.

It is common for the Forest Department personnel to drive the wild elephants back to the forest during night. On Tuesday, a herd of elephants had stayed put near Hadwalu Kere Lake and a team of Forest staff led by Deputy Range Forest Officer (DRFO) Dwarkanath was keeping a watch on the wild elephants to drive them back to the forest during dark.

But yesterday afternoon, a large crowd of villagers gathered near the Lake to watch the wild elephants and they began to make noise by screaming which panicked the wild elephants, which began to run helter-skelter. Meanwhile, Puttalakshmamma, who was grazing her cattle near the Lake, began to run on seeing the wild elephants running towards her.

As the panicked elephants began to run, one of the elephants knocked down Puttalakshmamma, who came in the way, and ran over her leg. Puttalakshmamma suffered a fracture on her right leg and a broken hand. She was immediately rushed to Hunsur General Hospital by the Forest staff, where she was provided first-aid and was later shifted to K.R. Hospital in Mysuru.

Meanwhile, one of the wild elephants kicked a cow belonging to one Kalegowda, which was grazing near the Lake resulting in the cow's death.

Menace of wild elephants has increased in the region since a couple of days. These elephants which come out of forests in search of food and water enter human habitat and are destroying crops besides killing cattle that come in their way.

The wild elephants that had stayed put on the banks of Lakshmanatheerta River, were being driven back to the Forest staff but the efforts of the Forest staff went in vain as the villagers began to scream and make noise which panicked the elephants. The villagers have urged the Forest Department authorities to take steps to prevent wild elephants from entering human habitat and destroy crops & properties.

Noise-induced hearing loss and its prevention

By Prof. Asha Yathiraj,
Professor of Audiology and
Monica Rathna Mala,
Audiologist Gr. I, JSS Institute of Speech & Hearing

International Noise Awareness Day is observed every year on the last Wednesday of April to raise awareness about the hazardous effects of noise on hearing, health and overall quality of life.

This year, the 27th Annual International Noise Awareness Day is celebrated today (April 27, 2022). An easy way to prevent hearing loss is to know what causes it, so that timely action can be taken to avoid the problem. One of the most common cause of acquired permanent hearing loss is exposure to loud noise. It is possible to prevent hearing loss and maintain healthy hearing by following certain precautionary measures. This article provides information regarding noise-induced hearing loss and how it can be prevented.

The intensity of noise, which is measured in dB SPL, can cause a hearing loss depending on the duration of exposure to noise. In general, sounds above 85dB SPL are harmful, depending on how long and how often the person is exposed to them. Louder noise levels can initially lead to a temporary hearing loss. With repeated exposure to noise, it can become permanent. Permanent hearing loss cannot be reversed either through medication or surgery. Hearing loss due to ageing is accelerated by exposure to loud noise.

The most common types of noise that may result in a noise-induced hearing loss are machinery noise at industrial set-ups, construction sites, as well as constant traffic noise, especially in airports and train stations. Individuals working in these areas are at risk of developing noise-induced hearing loss.

However, recent trend in excess use of personal music systems at loud levels by younger generation can also produce a hearing loss. Loud music in concerts can result in a hearing loss in the musicians as well as the audience. Sudden loud impulse noise can result in a hearing loss even if it is for a short duration.

What are the effects of noise exposure on hearing?

Noise exposure initially leads to difficulty in hearing high frequency sounds. The person may not be able to understand speech although it may be audible. This is especially the case when trying to listen when multiple people are speaking at once. Other symptoms include ringing/ buzzing sounds in the ear (tinnitus), tendency to speak loudly, sleep disturbances and even balance problems.

How to prevent noise-induced hearing loss?

The general rule of thumb is to stay away from sounds that are too loud/ too near/ too long in duration. Exposure to very loud sounds should be avoided even if it is for a short duration (example: loud crackers). Those exposed to noise as part of their occupation should use ear protective devices like ear plugs and ear muffs. Music should be enjoyed by listening to it at a low-to-medium volume, with breaks in between. Regular hearing check-ups by an audiologist is recommended to detect hearing loss at the earliest.

Types of noises, their intensity and the maximum allowable duration of exposure

Type of noise	Decibel (dB SPL) level	Average decibel (dB SPL) level	Maximum duration of exposure allowed
Industrial/ machinery noise	90 - 120 dB	105 dB	up to 1 hour per day*
Loud music	100 - 120 dB	110 dB	up to 30 mins per day*
Construction noise	90 - 110 dB	100 dB	up to 2 hours per day*
Heavy traffic	80 - 90 dB	85 dB	up to 8 hours per day*
Aircraft noise (Take off/ landing)	90 - 110 dB	100 dB	up to 2 hours per day*

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (PM&SSM)- Marking the International Noise Awareness Day, All India Institute of Speech and Hearing (AIISH), Mysuru, had organised a Walkathon-Rally with an awareness theme 'Protect Your Hearing, Protect Your Health' this morning.

Over 100 students took part in the awareness walkathon flagged off by MLA L. Nagendra at Knowledge Park Building, Naimisham Campus, AIISH. The walkathon passed through JCE College Road, Hunsur Road, University of Mysore (UoM) Open Air Theatre Road, Bogadi Road before culminating at the starting point.

Students carried placards with slogans and messages like 'Protect your hearing or it will be disappearing', 'High noise area, wear protection', 'Give your ears some rest', 'Good hearing is equal to good communication', 'Better hearing - better life' etc.

International Noise Awareness Day is a global campaign, founded in 1996 by the Centre for Hearing and Communication, aiming to raise awareness of the effects of noise on the welfare and health of people.

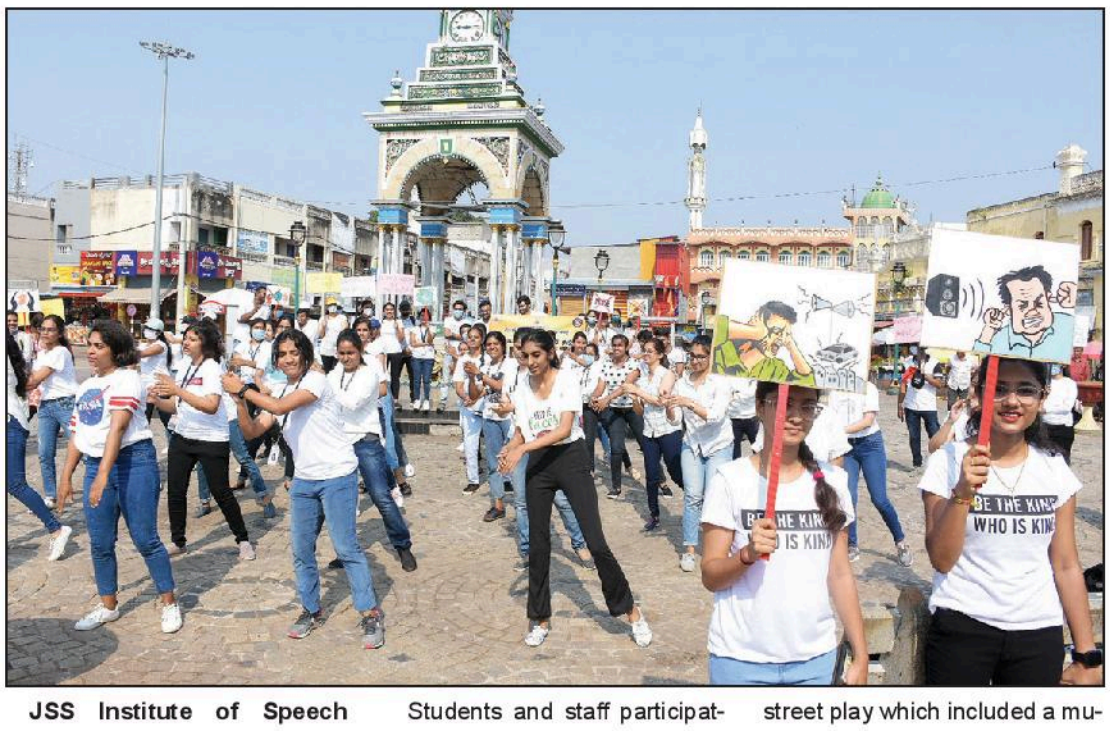
AIISH Audiology Department Head Dr. Praveen Kumar, speaking to Star of Mysore, said: "Noise affects people in many ways but it gets noticed by people when it results in deafness or creates annoyance. Last year more than 10,000 people came to get their ears tested out of which 6,000 people had lost their hearing ability. There are many reasons why our hearing system is affected. One must be aware of the noises which harm their ear."

Pointing out that taking antibiotic like Streptomycin, Gentamicin or Kanamycin and Astrogens regularly result in hearing loss, Dr. Praveen said that continuous intake of all these medication gradually reduces hearing capacity of a person. One must immediately consult specialists and go for alternative medicines, he added.

"People working in industrial sectors, Traffic Police Department and places with huge noise must use protection to avoid hearing loss. Head injuries during accidents result in hearing loss permanently. Hence, wearing a helmet while driving can avoid the same in case of accidents," he said.

Stating that 'Prevention is better than cure,' Dr. Praveen said: "People who usually work in huge noise areas must wear 'Ear plugs' or 'Ear muffs' so as to protect their ears from harsh noises. Noise is not just a nuisance. It can cause hearing loss. Don't neglect because hearing ability is the most important aspect of living" and advised for early detection and first-aid.

AIISH Director Dr. M. Pushpavathi, staff and students were present during the walkathon.



JSS Institute of Speech and Hearing (JSSISH): The Department of Audiology of the JSSISH, Mysuru, had also organised a walkathon and several activities to create awareness about noise this morning as part of International Noise Awareness Day.

Students and staff participated in the walkathon, which began from JSSISH on Ramanuja Road at 10 am, passed through Sayyaji Rao Road and reached Dufferin Clock Tower.

Later at the Dufferin Clock Tower students from the Audiology Department enacted a street play which included a musical dance performance, a skit, and a speech highlighting the ill-effect of loud noise and the ways to avoid noise.

Programme Convenor Dr. Apeksha, JSSISH Audiology Department Head Dr. Hemanth, staff and students were present.

QR Code DL card display mandatory in autos from June 1

Drivers asked to collect cards by May 31

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (RK&DM)- City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta said that it is mandatory for auto drivers to display QR Code-enabled Auto Driving Licence Display Card in their autos from June 1.

In a release, the Commissioner said that auto drivers defaulting on the new rule will be fined Rs. 2,000 and will also be booked under the provisions of the Indian Motor Vehicles Act.

Asking the auto drivers to collect the card at their respective Traffic Police Stations by producing the required documents before May 31, the City Top Cop said that drivers residing in the jurisdiction of Devaraja and Lashkar Civil Police Stations can collect their cards at Devaraja Traffic Police Station. Likewise, drivers residing in the limits of Krishnaraja (K.R.), Lakshmipuram, Vidyaranyapuram, Kuvempunagar, Saraswathipuram and Ashokapuram Police Stations can collect the cards at K.R. Traffic Police Station.

Drivers residing in the jurisdiction of Mandi and N.R. Police Stations can collect their cards at N.R. Mysuru, Apr. 27- Adventure sports was organised for the participants of 'Besige Bandi,' the Summer Camp organised by Nypunya School of Excellence, R.T. Nagar, at Kuntibetta near Pandavapura.

Over 100 students displayed their adventure skills by taking part in the rock climbing with ropes and learnt that the actual knowledge is not just the one obtained from the text books being in the middle of four walls but also interacting with the outer world and becoming strong physically and mentally. Other events included river rafting, trekking, rappelling, kayaking and country rafting.

The adventure activities were led by National Adventure Foundation (NAF) Director Rukmini Chandran and supported by Nypunya School Principal Shilpa and teachers' team.

The coaches gave learners an exposure on the sea birds and enterprise type of sail boats. Ground lessons were conducted as well.

Novak Djokovic can play at Wimbledon

as no vaccination required

London, Apr. 27- Novak Djokovic will be allowed to defend his title at Wimbledon, despite not being vaccinated against COVID-19, because the shots are not required to enter Britain, All England Club chief executive Sally Bolton said Tuesday. Djokovic, a 34-year-old Serb who is ranked No. 1, missed the Australian Open in January after being deported from that country because he was not vaccinated against the illness caused by the coronavirus that has led to the deaths of millions during the pandemic that began in 2020.

During the annual spring briefing ahead of Wimbledon, which starts on June 27, Bolton said that "whilst, of course, it is encouraged" that all players get vaccinated, "it will not be a condition of entry to compete" at the grass-court Grand Slam tournament this year.

Djokovic, in addition to being unable to defend his championship at Melbourne Park after an 11-day legal saga over whether he could remain in Australia, had to sit out tournaments at Indian Wells and Miami because he couldn't travel to the United States as a foreigner who is unvaccinated.

The U.S. Tennis Association has said that it will follow whatever governmental rules are in place regarding COVID-19 vaccination status when U.S. Open is held starting in late August.

Djokovic — who has said he got COVID-19 twice, once each in 2020 and 2021 — owns 20 Grand Slam singles titles, tied with Roger Federer for the second-most for a man. They trail Rafael Nadal, who won his 21st at the Australian Open.

Six of Djokovic's trophies came at Wimbledon, including victories each of the past three times the tournament was held — in 2018, 2019 and 2021. It was not held in 2020 because of the pandemic.

After what happened in Australia, Djokovic said he would be willing to sit out other Grand Slam tournaments if getting vaccinated were a requirement to compete. The next major event is the French Open, which begins on May 22, and tournament director Amelie Mauresmo said last month there was nothing preventing Djokovic from defending his 2021 title in Paris.

Elvera was single throughout life like her sisters.

Hockey India condoled the death of Elvera.

NH saves life of 70-year-old suffering from challenging heart condition

Mysuru, Apr. 27- The Heart Team of Narayana Multispeciality Hospital, Mysuru, has added another feather to its illustrious medical achievements by successfully performing Transcatheter Mitral Valve Replacement (TMVR), one of the most advanced cardiac treatment modalities. The team had performed the treatment on a 70-year-old patient suffering bio prosthetic valve degeneration (natural history of bio prosthetic valve).

In the case of VM (Name changed), who hails from Mumbai, her mitral valve which was replaced due to severe mitral valve stenosis and regurgitation in 2007 (15 years ago) by Dr. M.N. Ravi. Presently she had started showing signs of valve degeneration and visited Dr. M.N. Ravi for review. Ideally she needed repeat valve replacement since she was breathless and had fatigue. However, as Mrs. VM was 70 years of age and very frail, doctors felt doing another open-heart procedure would be of high risk. However, the team advised TMVR.

The procedure was performed by the team of doctors lead by senior Interventional Cardiologist Dr. V. Keshavamurthy and senior heart surgeon Dr. M.N. Ravi who have pioneering experience in this type of interventional procedures in this region. They are ably supported by other heart team mates Dr. Anand Lingan, Dr. P. Srinivas, Dr. Sudarshan. The procedure lasted for an hour. And she was taken out of ventilator in next one hour and she could communicate with her dear ones in next 2 hours.

Narayana Health
Health for all. All for health.

Elaborating about the case of Mrs. VM, Dr. Ravi, Chief of Cardiac Surgery and Clinical Director, Narayana Multispeciality Hospital, said: "Mrs. VM's advancing age and extreme frailty made us offer the family the option of less invasive procedure. With the expertise of the heart team with us we suggested TMVR. It is a ray of hope for patients like Mrs. VM who are sick, elderly, and frail with multiple comorbidities and are of high risk for open heart surgery."

"TMVR is minimally invasive which means less possibilities of blood loss or scars and shorter hospital," added Dr. Keshava Murthy, Senior Interventional Cardiologist of the Hospital.

As part of the procedure a catheter mounted crimped biological valve is passed through the groin into the heart (right atrium) and a puncture is made in the inter atrial septum, then the valve is passed across the previous artificial valve and implantation and a balloon expansion of the valve prosthesis is done.

TMVR performed at Narayana Multispeciality Hospital and the Heart Valve Clinic not only stand as examples of clinical excellence, they also provide a hope to those suffering from complex heart conditions in non-metros in and around Mysuru Region.

WORD OF THE DAY

Funambulism

Pronunciation: fyoo-NAM-buh-liz-um.
Meaning: Funambulism means "tightrope walking." That sense led to people applying the word for "a show of mental agility."
Origin: Back in ancient Rome, tightrope walking was a popular spectacle at public gatherings. The Latin word for "tightrope walker" is funambulus, from Latin funis, meaning "rope," and ambulare, "to walk." Over time, this fancy word for an impressive act of physical skill and agility also came to mean an impressive act of mental skill or agility.
Example: "Jason Kenney is a deft exponent of funambulism—the fine art of political tightrope walking. The Alberta premier's high wire act requires him to be suitably outraged at Ottawa's anti-energy policies but not so aggrieved that he incites what he calls 'the fear and anger roiling the Prairies.'" — John Ivison

THE ODD WORD

PHRASE OF THE DAY

For peanuts

Meaning: The phrase 'For Peanuts' means to do something for very little or no pay.
Origin: The origin of the idiom 'for peanuts' is credited to a Mr. Harry Mozley Stevens, who is often called the father of sports food service. An immigrant from England, Mr. Stevens began selling peanuts in 1895, when a peanut company called Cavanaros paid for advertising in the New York Giants game programs with peanuts, which Mr. Stevens would then sell to hungry fans. Mr. Stevens liked to jokingly state that he was "working for peanuts."
Example: "The students had very little money and were willing to work for peanuts."

QUOTE BOX

No man in the world has more courage than the man who can stop after eating one peanut. —Channing Pollock

Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma Literary Awards conferred

State Government urged to publish complete works of the late writer

Critic and Research Scholar Dr. C.N. Ramachandran (Research Award), senior Folklore Scholar Dr. N.R. Nayaka (Folklore Award) and veteran Journalist Dr. Padmaraja Dandavathi (Journalist Award), were conferred with literary awards given in the name Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma (Anandakanda) at a programme at B.M. Shri auditorium in Manasagangothri recently.

Mysuru, Apr. 27 (PM&TRR)- Three literary awards being given in the name Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma who wrote under the pen name 'Anandakanda' were conferred on Sunday in city at B.M. Shri auditorium in Manasagangothri. The awards were presented at a function organised jointly by Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma Trust, Belagavi and Kuvempu Institute of Kannada Studies (KIKS).

Critic and Research Scholar Dr. C.N. Ramachandran was conferred with Research Award, senior Folklore Scholar Dr. N.R. Nayaka was presented with Folklore Award and veteran Journalist Dr. Padmaraja Dandavathi was conferred with Journalist Award.

Senior Research Scholar Dr. Hampa Nagarajaiah, who presented the awards, said that there were many giants in the literary world during the 20th century with each one talented than the other. "Among such great men, Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma did great work and his writings have become study books of Kannada literature," he added.

"When I was the Kannada Sahitya Parishat President, the Parishat had decided to chose Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma as the President of Kannada Sahitya Sammelana, but it was not possible because of his bad health. In view of his unique contributions to Kannada literature, it was felt that he didn't get due recognition matching with his stature. In 1979, Kannada Sahitya Parishat members went to his residence and felicitated him. Though he couldn't speak, he expressed his happiness through tears of joy," recalled Dr. Nagaraiah.

Trust President Prof. Raghavendra Patil, who too spoke, described Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma as the most important person of North Karnataka's cultural and literary world and added that the Trust is working towards taking his ideals and literature to the people of Karnataka.

The State Government has provided Rs. 65 lakh grants to publish all the literary works of Basavaraja Kattimani even though the publisher has the patent to publish the works. But the Department of Kannada and Culture has not come forward yet to publish the works of Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma thereby doing injustice to the great writer, he regretted.

Prof. Raghavendra demanded that State Kannada and Culture Department should come forward to publish the literary works of Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma. "I don't force the Government to publish them through our Trust. There are many organisations associated with the Department of Kannada and Culture and the books should be published by any one of these organisations. We only demand the publishing of all the works of Dr. Betageri Krishnasharma," he added.

Kannada Sahitya Parishat former President Dr. Manu Baligar, who spoke on the occasion, said: "Among the 14 Government Trusts in the State, eight were formed during my tenure and Dr. Krishnashama's Trust is one among them. Arrangements were made so that each Trust gets a financial assistance of Rs. 12 lakh every year which is now slashed to Rs. 4-5 lakh because of COVID-19" and advised Prof. Raghavendra Patil to submit a memorandum to the Government seeking more grants to publish the works of Dr. Betageri and assured his co-operation.

KIKS Director Dr. M.G. Manjunath inaugurated the event. Sr. Research Scholar Nadoja Dr. Kamala Hampana, Mysore Varsity Syndicate Member Dr. E.C. Ningaraja Gowda were present.
